

Mrs. Harriet L. Ham
Assistant Principal
Middle & High School Teacher:
History & Bible

Harriet began her teaching career as a part-time staff at Lima Christian School in 1978. Since then she has taught in other schools specifically Hampton Christian Schools in Virginia, from 1988 to 2002 and Destiny Christian School from 2009 to present. In addition, she was a home school educator while serving for two years on the mission field. Her experience as a Christian educator spans over twenty years.

She has a passion for Christian education that continues to motivate her desire to teach history or "His Story" from a Biblical perspective. Education encompasses the whole man. Students must be taught that the value of learning ultimately leads to the destiny that God has designed for their lives. I believe we are life long learners; read, write, compute, study, read some more, and allow the name of the Lord to be glorified in all that you do.

Harriet is a graduate of the University of Virginia, receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree in U.S. History. Later she earned a Master's of Science degree in education from the University of Southern California. She has also earned additional graduate hours in education from Old Dominion University in Norfolk, Virginia, between 1996 and 2000. She has held certification with the Association of Christian Schools International.

In addition, Harriet has received credits in Biblical studies through Liberty University and Elim Bible Institute and is an ordained minister with Elim Fellowship.
